Ready For Anything
Week 3: Honesty Practice

Icebreaker Question

If you had to eat a slice of pie every day for the rest of your life, which flavor of pie would you choose?

The Verse

Philippians 4:12-13 NLT

I know how to live on almost nothing or with everything. I have learned the secret of living in every situation, whether it is with a full stomach or empty, with plenty or little. For I can do everything through Christ, who gives me strength.

Big Question

Why do we lie?

Choose questions for your Crew.

1. What was your favorite part of the message today? What's one thing you learned?
2. Think about the Jenga game we played today. How does that block tower remind you of truth and trust vs. dishonesty and mistrust?
3. What's your answer to today's big question?
4. Read Philippians 4:12-13 NLT. How could this verse remind you to be honest in any situation?
5. Name a person who you think of as really honest. What does that person do that makes you feel that way? In what ways would you like to be like them?
6. Describe a situation where people feel pressured to be dishonest. What could help them to be truthful with love and care instead? And what will you do if you're tempted to be dishonest this week?
7. Spend some time checking in with the students in your group. How are they doing? Any prayer requests? Anything they want to thank God for? Pray together.

Ready For Anything
Week 3: Honesty Practice

Trust Towers

A fun way to bring the tower illustration on The Loop Show to real life.

Activity Objective

Remove a piece of the wooden Jenga tower without making the rest of the tower fall over.

You'll Need

- Jenga game (1 per room)

Instructions

Set up: One leader should assemble the Jenga game and set it up somewhere stable in your room, such as on a table.

Say: On The Loop Show today, we saw a visual example with a wooden tower of how lies wear down someone's trust in you. Some lies may slip through without ruining your trust. But each lie plays a role in wearing down trust. Let's play that same game right now—and be thankful it's only a game and not our real reputations and trustworthiness at stake!

1. Each group chooses one person to go to the tower and remove one block—one person playing at a time—without knocking down the rest of the tower.
2. Repeat this process, allowing as many students who want to try to remove a piece to play until the tower finally topples.
3. If time allows, rebuild and play again.
